GIZOO SHOWCASES GIFTS FOR NATIONAL BARBECUE WEEK

See the summer in with a celebration of all things barbecued

Gizoo (www.gizoo.co.uk), the online retailer of gadgets, gifts and gizmos, is delighted to showcase its top gifts in celebration of National Barbecue Week, May 26th to June 2nd 2008.

Barbecue Heat Shield Fork – £12.95. Great for back gardens and camping trips, every BBQ master should get their hands on this must-have BBQ tool. The sharp, two-finger fork prongs are perfect for slicing into meat. From burgers to kebabs, sausages to steaks, this sharp BBQ fork will make cooking a BBQ easy. The extra long fork neck and prongs are purposely designed to enable you to get stuck into the BBQ and turn meat while keeping hands and fingers a safe distance from the flames. Check the Shielded Fork website for more pictures and info.

Barbecue Heat Shield Knife – £14.95. Like the Heat Shield Fork, this Heat Shield Knife makes barbecue cooking easier and safer. The handle of the BBQ knife is particularly comfortable and keeps a firm grip thanks to its ergonomic design and quality materials. There's even a built-in light, which comes in pretty handy for any late night-time or dusk BBQs you may have coming up during National Barbecue Week. Go to the Barbecue Heat Shield Knife page to find out more.

Marshmallow Toaster – £12.95. Step away from the traditional twig we often resort to for our favourite BBQ dessert, because Gizoo have found a souped up marshmallow-toasting alternative. And this bad boy toasts a mighty three marshmallows at a time. Scrumptious! Using three stainless steel revolving prongs you can roast your marshmallows rotisserie style for even cooking and finger-licking results, while the ergonomic handle and elastomeric inserts make controlling the Marshmallow Toaster over the fire or BBQ easy. Order yours today for a fun finish to BBQs, or enjoy a special treat over the fire!. Click here for more!

Wind Up LED Lantern – £19.95. Forget candles. Forget battery-powered torches. Finally there's an energy-saving alternative that's cheap, powerful, portable and reliable. And the best bit? No batteries are required... ever! The LED Wind-Up Lantern is another of those simple but great ideas that make you wonder why you wasted so much time with anything else. One minute's winding is enough power to produce 30 minutes of light, so the box says, but we found it lasted a lot longer. Find out more about the Wind Up LED Lantern here.

Solar Drinks Coaster – £14.95. Harness the power of the sun and give your afternoon barbecues and evening garden drinks some va va vooom with this funky pair of solar coasters – because your average drinks coasters they are not. Placing your drinks glass or bottle onto the solar drinks coasters sets off a mesmerising sequence of hypnotic colours, which illuminate your glass and drinks bottle and will look fantastic in your garden this summer. Eye-catching colours include red, orange, blue, green, yellow and purple, making these solar colour-changing coasters a guaranteed talking point!. “The weather’s been fantastic recently and we hope this is a good omen for National Barbecue Week!” says Gary Bates, Gizoo’s Managing Director. “We hardly need an excuse when the sun is shining, so with a Bank Holiday thrown in for good measure this week is a perfect opportunity to brush down the barbecue, grab some charcoal or check the gas cylinder, fill the fridge and ready the garden furniture – plus with these great Gizoo gadgets all our barbecue gatherings can be easier and more fun, too.”

End.
